DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Since the certified English translation of the priority document has not been submitted the effective filing date of the instant application is 5/6/04.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. While the examiner appreciates the submission of copending application 11/200,800, said copending application cannot be acknowledged on PTO-Form 1449.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-24 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-28 of copending Application No. 11/200,800. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the copending application is a species of the genus of the instant application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 11, 12 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

7. In claim 11 beidellite is a smectite. See claim 24. Claim 12 contains improper Markush language. In claim 16 the phrase "as claimed in one of claims 13" does not make sense.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

9. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Heinen et al. 6,630,526, Perego et al. 2006/0058432 or Drewes et al. 2006/0138391.

10. Heinen et al. disclose polymer, phosphorus compound and melamine condensation products with their concentrations in claim 1, polymers in column 2, lines 1-29, intercalated clay in column 3, lines 20-26, their concentration in column 3, lines 36-39, phosphinic acid salts and their concentration in column 4, lines 7-11 and 25-32. Injection molding is mentioned in column 6, lines 47-50. Perego et al. teach polyamide, phosphinate salts, condensation and reaction products of melamine and other polymers with their concentrations in claim 1, nanoclays with its concentration in claim 2 and paragraphs 0041-0042. For articles see paragraph 0061. Drewes et al. recite salts of phosphinic acid and melamine condensation and reaction products in claim 1, nanocomposites and modified mineral earths in claim 10 and paragraph 0077 and polymers in claim 17. Injection molding is shown in paragraph 0091. Applicant's claims are not novel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

12. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heinen et al. 6,630,526, Perego et al. 2006/0058432 or Drewes et al. 2006/0138391.

13. All references have been discussed in previously. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art; at the time the invention was made, to select applicant's ingredients from a list of equivalents.
